Orange County To Ask $13,000,000 From Government

PROGRAM TO BE OFFERED STATE C OF C

Plans Discussed At Meet Of Supervisors Of Nine Counties Of Southland
INCLUDE FLOOD PLANS
Two Newport Harbor Projects Included In Plans To Be Submitted

PLANS FOR projects totalling $13,000,000 including the Orange county $11,000,000 flood control program will be filed with the State Chamber of Commerce for inclusion in the state-wide public works program as Orange county's share of federal funds to be made available in California.

Plans for adoption of a California policy were discussed yesterday in Los Angeles at a meeting of supervisors representing nine southern counties in an effort to cooperate with the State Chamber of Commerce in preparing a state-wide policy. At this conference Orange county projects including Newport Harbor improvement and road work were suggested for support.

According to Willard Smith, chairman of the Orange county board of supervisors, and spokesmen for the supervisors at the meeting yesterday, the supervisors discussed the general state program and the particular county projects to be included and decided to return to their counties, prepare their individual programs and forward them to the State Chamber of Commerce for inclusion in the state program.

Supervisor W. C. Jerome, for the first district, who released information relative to the conference this morning, said that to date nothing definite had been determined as to how much money might be available to the state and Orange county under federal plans.

He said that under the federal $3,500,000,000 allotment for public works, passed by the last congress, if divided on a basis of population California will receive $132,000,000 of which approximately $3,000,000 will be Orange county's share. Under a second federal appropriation of $2,000,000,000, Orange county would get approximately $2,000,000.

Money Undecided

To date the counties do not know what steps to take, how much money will be available or whether or not the counties will be able to qualify for funds Jerome said. In the meantime each county will prepare programs based upon what money could be expended in public works.

Under the $13,000,000 program to be submitted by Orange county, the last flood control and water conservation project prepared for the county by Engineers Elliott, Means and Etchevery will be included. Supervisors Smith and Jerome said.

Two Newport Harbor projects will be submitted according to the supervisors. One will provide for a minimum completed program involving approximately $600,000. The second will be a possible maximum program of more than $2,000,000. The harbor projects will include extending and strengthening of the jetty and dredging the mouth of the harbor entrance. The balance will provide for other dredging work.

The county program will also include expenditure of approximately $2,000,000.

FARM PROGRAM BEING PUSHED BY ROOSEVELT

Secretary Wallace To Reveal Methods To Curtail Production

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(UP)—The Roosevelt administration is moving rapidly to make its farm relief program yield real dollars and cents gains for the individual farmer.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace expected to reveal today the specific methods to be used in adding millions of dollars to the income of cotton raisers and curtailing the over-production of that commodity. The cotton control program follows Wallace's announcement that about $150,000,000 will be paid this year to wheat farmers in return for reducing acreage under a three-year grain production control plan.

Money for the payments to wheat farmers will be raised through a processing tax of about 30 cents a bushel, to become effective next month. The cotton plan is expected to involve a similar tax, despite continued opposition to the levy by important southern congressmen. Governor Morgenthau of the farm credit administration at the same time is placing in operation the $2,000,000,000 credit pool available under emergency legislation to refinance farm mortgages and prevent mortgage foreclosures. He will try his plan first in the state of Wisconsin.

There the government will pour $25,000,000 into closed banks to take over farm obligations. The farmers' debt will be refinanced at lower interest rates; the principal will be scaled down by an average of 30 per cent; and the banks with frozen assets will be enabled to repay their depositors and reopen for business, it is hoped.

Wisconsin will be the laboratory. If the plan is successful, it will be repeated in every state in the union whose laws permit.

The programs to aid growers of wheat and cotton, two great basic commodities, are expected to be followed by speedy action regarding other farm products. Wallace has called a meeting of dairy interests to consider a plan for that industry on June 26.

The aim of the whole plan is to give farmers an income equal to that they enjoyed in pre-war years. In Wallace's words, it is the first major step on the "new untold path" of adjusting American agriculture to changed world conditions and the first large scale attempt at economic planning of agriculture.

By eliminating surpluses through lowered production and stimulated exports abroad, it is hoped normal market prices eventually will rise sufficiently to give the farmers the returns desired. But in the meantime the government itself will add to the farmers' income by paying them the proceeds of the special taxes to be levied.

AMERICAN ATTACKED BY CHINESE THUGS

MUKDEN, Manchuria, June 17.—(UP)—George Flynn, American employee of the Texaco Oil company, was near death today from knife wounds inflicted by a bandit gang.

The bandits last night entered Flynn's home by force. After binding the oil man and his wife, the gang leader, without provocation, stabbed Flynn.

FULLERTON DRY ORDINANCE IS UPHeld BY JUDGE ALLEN

DECLARING THAT a city or county ordinance valid and good before adoption of the Wright Act was merely suspended during the time the state law was in effect and again became operative upon repeal of the Wright Act, Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday upheld the Fullerton dry ordinance and refused to release Mrs. Frances Aguilar on a writ of habeas corpus.

Mrs. Aguilar has been convicted for possession and sale of liquor. The county dry law was upheld recently in a similar decision handed down by Judge Allen on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus seeking release of Frank Hagale of Seal Beach.

In announcing his decision yesterday, Judge Allen raised the additional point that a writ of habeas corpus must be decided upon the record of the case on which it was based in lower court. Judge Allen held that the only record before the court at yesterday's hearing was a commitment issued by the lower court which must be presumed to be correct if it is correct upon its face.

The only witness called at the hearing yesterday was City Clerk Fred Hezmaloch of Fullerton who identified the Fullerton dry ordinance before it was introduced in evidence. Attorney D. G. Wettlin, representing Mrs. Aguilar and Roland Thompson for the City of Fullerton argued the case on points of law.

Wettlin attacked the ordinance which was adopted in 1921 prior to adoption of the Wright Act in 1922. The city ordinance, according to Wettlin, provided a penalty of $300 fine or 90 days in jail, or both for violation of the ordinance. The Wright Act provided a penalty of a fine not to exceed $500 for the first offense.

Delay Hunt For Mattern Until Later

Heavy Fog And Clouds Still Shroud Bering Sea And Airmen Dubious

NOME, Alaska, June 17.—(UP)—Hope for the safety of James Mattern, round the world flier, believed down somewhere in the remote Bering Sea area, was not abandoned by airmen today.

Because of dense fog and clouds, an organized search for the Texas aviator, who left Khabarovsk, Siberia, for Nome Wednesday, appeared unlikely for several days. Two coast guard cutters searched Bering Sea, however.

Airmen here believed Mattern landed on one of the Aleutian chain of islands or on an island in the Bering sea. They said he could live in safety with natives for weeks before establishing communication with the outside world.

Mattern's route over the Okhotsk sea, up the Kamchatka peninsula and the Bering sea was considered one of the most dangerous in the Arctic.

Three Japanese good-will fliers, Kiyoshi Honma, Tomoyoshi Ishita, and Eiichiro Baba, lost their lives in the same area after taking off from Salshiro beach, Japan, last year.

DUEL CHALLENGER ORDERED TO PRISON

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—(UP)—An inventor who challenged his attorney to a duel because the barrister failed to secure a patent today awaited sentence that possibly may confine him in San Quentin prison for a year.

W. P. Blake, 53-year-old former bee keeper, was convicted on an ancient California anti-dueling law for inviting Herman Miller, patent attorney, to meet him on the field of honor.

The challenge was contained in a letter, stipulating that the attorney select one of two pistols, one of which was to be unloaded. Regular seconds were to supervise the proceedings. Instead of meeting his self-appointed adversary, Miller filed a complaint against Blake who admitted writing the letter. In court he said it was the only method he had of obtaining justice.

RUTH KRESSE WEDS IN NEW YORK TODAY

Kresse, beat Barbara Hutton, Woolworth heiress, to the altar by three days, and left New York for a honeymoon abroad with her husband, Capt. Henry William Nugent Head, Irish broker, on the Ile De France today.

Miss Kresse, who has $5,000,000 in her own right, given her by her father several years ago, has been reported engaged before but her real marriage venture came as a surprise to younger New York society.

EARL OF COWLEY IS GRANTED DIVORCE

RENO, Nev., June 17.—(UP)—Christian Arthur Wellesley, fourth Earl of Cowley, and grand nephew of the first Duke of Wellington, today was granted a divorce from Mae Josephine Callcott, London actress.

STABILIZATION PROPOSALS ARE UNACCEPTABLE

World Economic Conference Plans Fail To Meet Approval Of U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(UP)—Money stabilization proposals made to the United States last night by representatives of the World Economic conference "are not acceptable" to the United States, Undersecretary of the Treasury Atcheson explained today.

It was stated at the treasury that the suggestion made by the delegates in reference to money stabilization were too crystallized to meet with the approval of the American government.

In reply it was learned at the treasury President Roosevelt has instructed the American delegates to the economic conference on definite limits between which the American government would agree upon currency stabilization.

The European viewpoint on stabilization, which is unagreeable to the administration at the present time was determined by Prof. C. M. W. Sprague, American financial adviser at London and transmitted to President Roosevelt last night.

President Roosevelt discussed the entire proposition with Secretary of Treasury Woodin and other high government officials before his departure for Boston. Dr. Alfred Hugenberg's memorandum proposing the return to Germany of her lost colonies was repudiated today and Hugenberg will return to Germany, possibly not to appear again at the world economic conference.

ENGINEERS WATCH KELSO RIVER DIKE

KELSO, Wash., June 17.—(UP)—While crews of men worked feverishly all through the night to repair the break in the Coweeman dike, which flooded 600 acres and drove 1500 from their homes Thursday, engineers watched the Cowlitz river dike with apprehension today.

Some said the dike would give way in district No. 13, southwest of Kelso. Flooding another 200 acres or more and raising the waters already spread over the district, before the day is over.

The district inside the weak spot in the Cowlitz river dike is comprised of small farms, truck gardens and is also occupied by three of the largest dairies in the county.

All but about 30 refugees had been installed in homes of friends, relatives and in vacant residences today. The 30 spent the night in the high school building again last night.

KINDERGARTEN BILL KILLED BY ROLPH

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 17.—(UP)—Heeding protests of educators, Governor Rolph today had vetoed one of the few school economy measures passed by the legislature, a measure increasing the minimum kindergarten age from four and one-half to five years.

The governor disapproved the bill on two grounds: 1, kindergartens are a large factor in primary education and should not be curtailed; 2, the bill would mean discontinuance of kindergarten in many small communities.

APPROVE LOAN FOR HARRIMAN NATIONAL

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(UP)—A loan of approximately $7,000,000 to the Harriman National Bank and Trust company of New York by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has been approved by directors of the financing agency, it was learned today.

The loan will permit 50 per cent payment to depositors of the bank.

Here's Proof Briar Pipe Is Obnoxious

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Cal., June 17.—(UP)—Yosemite National park rangers and officials long have contended that park Engineer E. M. Hilton's old briar pipe was the strongest thing in these parts.

Today they had proof. Hilton, inspecting the new Wawona tunnel, sat down near one of the ventilating shafts, bored horizontally into the cliff and equipped with fans which operate automatically when the air in the tunnel becomes slightly polluted with automobile exhaust gas or other noxious fumes.

Hilton lit his pipe. He took three puffs. The ventilating fans turned themselves on with a roar.

ROOSEVELT IN BOSTON TODAY FOR VACATION

Will Set Sail Tomorrow On Cruise With Sons And Old Associates

BOSTON, June 17.—(UP)—America's sailor president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, forgot the cares of office today as he looked forward with boyish enthusiasm to a cruise that will carry him to scenes of long-past happy days.

Vigorous and apparently unmarked by the terrific strain of the past three months, which saw a gigantic legislative program whipped into shape, the nation's chief executive boarded a special train at Union station in Washington last night on the first leg of a 20-day holiday that will terminate in July.

Son Present
Mr. Roosevelt, accompanied by his son James, George Briggs and John Cutler, all of Boston, expects to set sail tomorrow aboard the trim schooner Amberjack II from Marion, Mass., for a leisurely sail along the Massachusetts and Maine coast to Campbell, the Roosevelt summer home just across the New Brunswick boundary.

It was the same old Mr. Roosevelt who entrained at Washington for the trip. Smiling, and carrying his cane of state lightly, he boarded his private car to the cheers of dozens of admirers who huddled together in a down-pour of rain to bid him goodbye. The president waved a cheery farewell before posing before a battery of cameras.

Once in his stateroom on his private car, the president scanned last-minute affairs that were brought to his attention by his secretaries and then announced that he was ready to "turn in for the night."

To Visit Sons
Before the train was out of the suburbs of Baltimore he was sound asleep. The train arrived here at 8:32 a. m. E. D. T.

The president planned to drive from Boston to Groton, Mass., where he will visit two of his sons, Franklin Jr., and John, who are students at Groton school, Mr. Roosevelt's alma mater.

Once aboard the Amberjack, the president planned to shift into vacation clothes in preparation for the cruise starting early tomorrow.

SHERIFF RELEASED BY BANK ROBBERS

BOLIVAR, Mo., June 17.—(UP)—Sheriff Jack Killingsworth and an elderly couple were released today after spending several hours as hostages in the hands of Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd and a companion.

The trio was released between Warsaw and Clinton after Floyd exacted promises that his instructions would be followed.

"You are to take the car," Floyd told the elderly couple from Humboldt, Kan. "It's too hot for us."

THREE MORE ARE INJURED IN MASSACRE

Attempt To Free Recaptured Convict Terminates In Bloody Battle

4 OFFICERS KILLED
Hundreds Of Pedestrians In Danger As Machine Guns Spit Lead

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 17.—(UP)—A desperate underworld attempt to free a recaptured convict ended with the massacre of five men here today. They were shot down in a machine gun barrage at the union station plaza.

Three others were wounded by the gunfire and lives of scores of motorists and pedestrians passing the plaza were endangered. Frank Nash, notorious Oklahoma outlaw, was one of those killed. The other dead were officers escorting him back to the Leavenworth federal prison, from which he escaped in 1930.

The slain officers were: Ott Reed, chief of police of McAlester, Okla.; Raymond J. Caffrey, agent of the bureau of investigation, department of justice; and William Grooms and Frank Hermanson, Kansas City detectives.

Without warning the murderous fire from three machine guns was turned upon the officers. They were mowed down with no chance to defend themselves. One gang of five machine gunners was in the automobile that sped down the plaza and raked the group of officers with gunfire.

A second car that drove through the plaza at high speed was believed also to have contained gangsters linked with the plot to liberate Nash.

Capture Convict
Nash, a member of the Al Spencer gang of bank and train robbers in Oklahoma, was captured yesterday in Hot Springs, Ark., and officers brought him by train to Kansas City.

He arrived here early today in custody of Reed, Caffrey and F. F. Lusk, another agent of the bureau of investigation. As the train pulled into the union station, a group of Kansas City officers met the party.

Nash was taken from the train to an automobile parked on the station plaza. He was manacled to one of the officers, and was placed in the car with Chief Reed and two federal men.

Suddenly bursts of fire from three machine guns echoed through the plaza, spraying bullets on the group. The bullets rattled against the

Urges Quick Action For Earthquake Repair Loans

WILCOX SAYS FUND GOING TO OTHER STATES

With $40,000 already paid out to owners of property in Orange county damaged in the earthquake, applicants for loans for repairs of private buildings under the earthquake reconstruction act today were urged to hurry up their applications.

Word received from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation by E. N. Wilcox, who has office in the Santa Ana building and who has charge of applications for the county, pointed out that the original $5,000,000 appropriated by Congress is fast being diminished by loans in other states.

The original act limited the $5,000,000 to rehabilitation from earthquake damage but did not limit it to any one state. As a consequence, the committee appointed to administer the fund in this area reports only $1,500,000 in loans to Southern California have been approved, but another $500,000 was applied for today from the Los Angeles office of the R. F. C.

In the meantime $1,000,000 of the original appropriation has been transferred to the state of Maine, and other states are after the balance. These appropriations have been made recently by an amendment to the original earthquake relief act providing that the funds may be used for reconstruction as a consequence of floods, tornadoes and similar natural forces as well as earthquakes.

The same amendment, however, provided for an increase in the appropriation by which a total of $1,000,000 will be available for private loans and $2,000,000 for rehabilitation of public buildings. With the distribution of the fund now enlarged to cover rehabilitation from various forms of natural forces other than earthquake and making the funds available to all parts of the United States, the special advisory committee to R. F. C. in Southern California urges the early presentation of anticipated loan applications.

It was pointed out that any

Rolph Vetoes One Out Of Every 10 Bills

SACRAMENTO, June 17.—(UP)—One out of every ten bills passed by the legislature up to the May 12 recess and submitted to Governor Rolph has been vetoed, a recapitulation revealed today.

Many of the bills were major legislation. The governor disapproved 113 of the 1118 bills submitted. During the 1931 session he vetoed 96 of 1358 bills submitted.

In other words the veto mortality rate in 1931 was one out of every 14 as compared to one out of ten this session.

person who owns property damaged in the earthquake is eligible to apply for loans to reconstruct their property.

It was announced also that under the amended act applicants for loans will no longer be limited to liens on the property damaged, but may give first liens on other property for the purpose of rehabilitating damaged property, as long as all other conditions of the act and rules are met.

The committee also urges all school, municipal and public authorities to file their applications at once so that California can receive its fair proportion of the $12,000,000 for repair of public buildings.

Two Parked Cars Damaged In Crash

Two parked cars near the Smart and Final warehouse on East First street were slightly damaged at 9:30 o'clock last night when a car driven by M. W. Griffith, 925 French street, got out of control. The cars hit by Griffith were registered to B. L. Folger, 1706 West Washington street and H. C. Phillips, 805 South Van Ness street. Griffith's light car was towed to a garage and he was brought to the police station for investigation, but later released.

motor car and found their marks in the bodies of the officers, caught without a chance to defend themselves.

Nash and Reed slumped over in the car, dead.

Grooms and Hermanson fell to the pavement, mortally wounded. Caffrey died a few minutes later in the general hospital.

Luckey, desperately wounded in the car, was hurried to general hospital for emergency treatment. He was shot three times.

R. E. Vetterli, agent in charge of the bureau of investigation here, was wounded in the arm. Bullets ripped his clothing, but he escaped with the one wound.

Crowd Assembles

The rattle of machine gun fire and groans of the dying men brought a crowd rushing from the station. Women screamed and men cried out in awe at the spectacle.

A taxi cab driver standing in front of the station looked south across the plaza just as the machine gunners swung into action.

The machine gunners opened fire point blank at the officers.

"I saw two men fall in the street beside the car in which the officers had put their prisoner," said Robert Fritz, the taxi cab driver.

"They fell in each others arms. Later I learned that they were fellow officers who always teamed together."

"With the first shots, I saw another driver slump over in his cab. I ducked, and crawled to him, thinking he had been hit."

"He was uninjured. He said excitedly that he thought he'd better get under cover."

"Just back of me, beside a stone pillar of the station, a traffic officer whipped out his gun."

"By that time the machine gunners were speeding up their car toward the street that leads toward Penn Valley park."

"The traffic officer fired several quick shots at the fleeing car. I don't think they took effect."

"The traffic officer didn't have a chance for a good shot, with the machine gunners car weaving through traffic."

"Then I rushed over to where the dead men lay. The scene was awful."

It was only by a miracle that none of the motorists and pedestrians passing through the station plaza at the time missed being struck by bullets.

Within the station, crowds were pouring from the early morning trains. The machine gun fire echoed through the vast concourse of the station.

Many within thought the machine guns were being fired in the station itself. They ran for any convenient shelter.

Some of the customers in the station restaurant dropped down behind the counters.

Bullets riddled cars parked near the spot where the officers were massacred.

Thomas J. Scholton, 48, 702 West Third street, was seriously injured at 9:30 o'clock this morning when a car he was driving and a machine driven by Alpheus Smith, R. D. 5, Box 372, collided at Second and Van Ness streets.

Scholton was rushed to the Orange county hospital in an ambulance where he was treated for a possible fracture of the left hand and arm, bruises on his shoulders, and cuts and lacerations. He was released at noon. No one else was hurt in the crash.

The Los Angeles county public works program, proposed by Supervisor Quinn, alone would require the expenditure of approximately $47,000,000 and would provide employment for approximately 30,000 men for one year. This program does not include a number of municipal and school district projects which, when definitely outlined, will add millions of dollars and thousands of men to the pay roll.

In addition to the Los Angeles county program, other southern counties represented at yesterday's meeting presented tentative programs as follows:

Imperial county, $400,000 to employ 800 men for one year; Ventura county, $778,000 to employ 2000 men for one year; San Diego city and county, $6,843,672 to employ 3500 men for one year; Riverside city (no projects proposed in county, $500,000 to employ 800 men for one year; Santa Barbara county, $8,000,000 to employ 4000 men for one year; Tulare county, $661,500 to employ 500 men, and San Bernardino county, $2,830,000 to employ 1600 men for one year.

Couron plans to enlarge the school band drill group to a membership of 120 and to select three drum majors for the band. The drum majors will be selected for their work this summer in music, drill, attendance and deportment.

A mass meeting of all music students in the two junior high schools and the senior high school will be held Monday night at 7 o'clock in the high school auditorium to formulate plans for the enlarged band and to set rehearsal dates. This will be the last meeting held especially for registration.

Edward L. Couron, drum major of the famous Santa Ana American Legion drum and bugle corps, has taken over the direction of a new drill unit of the Santa Ana High school band, it was announced today.

FULLERTON DRY ORDINANCE IS UPHELD BY JUDGE ALLEN

Wetlin cited a supreme court decision in which he said a distinction was drawn between the Fullerton case in which it was held that the ordinance and the state law punished the same offense with conflicting penalties, and other ordinance where there could be a different penalty and not punishing the same offense. He cited that the Fullerton ordinance and the Wright act both provided different penalties for the sale or possession of liquor of more than one-half of one per cent alcoholic content.

Wetlin cited a recent decision by the fourth district court of appeals in the Wylie local option case at Visalia in which it was held that legislation repealed by a state law does not become operative when the repealing ordinance itself is repealed. He also cited a 1923 decision by the supreme court upholding the same contention.

Thompson replied briefly for the city of Fullerton taking the position that if the ordinance was a good and valid ordinance when the Wright act was adopted it is still good and valid except that it could not be enforced during the life of the Wright act. Supporting his contention he cited article 11, section 11 of the state constitution giving the cities the right to make and enforce ordinances not in conflict with the state law.

He held that the city ordinance was not voided but suspended by the state law and could be enforced after repeal of the Wright act. He also relied on the decision of the appellate division of the Los Angeles county superior court upholding the Gandler law, Los Angeles' dry ordinance.

A WORD OF COMFORT
Admiration of another's triumph over tremendous odds is but the first step in your own accomplishment.

In all humility recognize that your abilities are, in essence, similar to his. Then realize that you also must fight hard to win your victory over doubts and the temptation to surrender.

Success is your ultimate destiny but it is to be won in the strength which God alone can give.

FULLERTON DRIVER IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Newton Carroll of Fullerton was arrested and booked at the county jail this morning after failing to pay a $50 fine for driving a car without a license and using dealer's plates in Fullerton.

He appeared before Judge Halley I. Spence and was sentenced to pay the fine or spend 25 days in jail. Carroll had his driving license, registration certificate and license plates confiscated and sent to the state motor vehicle department by highway patrol officers earlier this week for failure to appear on a traffic violation charge before Police Judge J. G. Mitchell of Santa Ana.

He had been ordered not to drive until he had cleared charges against him in Mitchell's court. Carroll, who lives at 340 West Brookdale in Fullerton, had dealer's plates on his car at the time of the arrest by Officer Dan Adams of the highway patrol.

It is reported that Carroll is wanted in San Diego for failure to appear on a traffic violation charge and that in 1931, he had the same trouble in Oceanside but finally cleared up the case by posting bail in Santa Ana.

Man With 2 Names Gets Liquor Fine

Changing one's name in applying for an automobile operator's license, in order to avoid a pursuing former wife's attempts to locate and annoy a man, who has married, is a forgivable offense in the eyes of City Judge C. C. (Gavy) Cravath, but driving while intoxicated is something else. The former "King of Swat" suspended a $10 fine in the former case against Lloyd Cannon, of Borega Valley, Calif., in the justice court here Friday and assessed him $25 on the latter charge. Cannon's second wife, who was in court, paid the fine.

Cannon was arrested by George Stinson, state highway patrolman, on the Coast highway north of Laguna Beach on the drunk-driving and a speeding charge. At the Laguna Beach police station, the offender gave his right name. In checking over the car, Stinson found the operator's license made out to "Lloyd Walker." After an exhaustive investigation he discovered the facts and Deputy District Attorney Leo J. Frills, who prosecuted the case, subpoenaed witnesses from Los Angeles and San Bernardino to prove his case. When confronted with the discrepancies of name and address, Cannon readily admitted the offense and gave his reasons. Mrs. Cannon corroborated them.

Mrs. Gertrude Walker of the state motor vehicle department in Los Angeles had testified that Cannon had taken oath that his name was Walker. Frills informed the prisoner that he had no right to drive his car as he actually had no license. Judge Cravath sent for Chief of Police Abe W. Johnson and Cannon made out a new application and was given a temporary permit to drive.

DRY FORCES OF LA HABRA HOLD PARADE, RALLY

LA HABRA, June 17.—Dry forces of La Habra staged a parade and rally yesterday, with J. F. Burke as the principal speaker at the rally.

Except for the motor driven vehicles, the parade was similar to the old political parades used in early fights against the saloons and the cars were decorated with signs that read, "Purity for Youth," "Protect Youth," "Keep Orange Juice, Not Beer," "Milk, Not Beer" and was formed at the Methodist church, paraded through the main parts of town, and ended at a large vacant lot on Central avenue, where the speaker addressed the large audience assembled. The parade was more than three blocks long.

The Rev. Harry O. Simmons, pastor of the La Habra Methodist church, introduced the speaker, commending him highly on his stand for the cause of prohibition. "The people back of this program to bring back liquor are men who make money out of debauchery of men and women, and they expect to bring money back to themselves only," Burke declared. "In this fight, rights of ministers to ask protection of boys and girls are being questioned by these interests of debauchery. I stand back of men and women who devote their lives to making better homes, and better and more secure communities."

As to the business proposition, he said, those advocating return of beer, already have left that cry as a chief battle cry, principally because it hasn't proved itself, and now are advocating return of beer to communities, not because of the need of the beer in the community, but because another community has put it back. They have not one defense to make of the character of the business, he said.

WATER WORKS SHOCK DAMAGE ENGINEER'S REPORTS ASKED BADLY BURNED BY ASSESSOR

Anticipating adoption at the special election June 27 of the amendment to the state constitution offering relief to property owners whose property was damaged $150 or more during the recent earthquake, County Assessor James Sleeper is calling for statements of damage.

He is asking that property owners whose buildings were damaged $150 or more by the earthquake of March 10, apply at his office at once for blank forms on which to state their property damage, together with a description of their property.

Sleeper, in stressing the urgency for immediate action points out that these forms must be completed before the board of supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization, completes its work on July 17.

Under proposal of the amendment, property damaged during the earthquake will be assessed at its value following the quake and not as of March 1.

-- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

GLASS

You will hear that Mr. Roosevelt rushed to the rescue of the Glass Bank Bill at the last moment. That does not appear to be true. Mr. Roosevelt had a hand in the rescue act but the hero medal should go to none other than the Ozark, Alabama, lawyer, now Congressman Steagall. He is the same Steagall who killed the bill last session. This time he liked it because it contained his pet deposit guarantee provision.

Fat lobbyists of the New York banks had gone home. They yawned and reported the bill was as dead as a defeated Congressman. Senator Glass admitted it. He said he would do nothing further until next session.

Steagall got busy. In a few hours he obtained 112 signatures to a petition interring the signers would not go home without the Glass Bill.

He took that petition privately to the right man—Senator Jim Byrnes. The administration was having trouble enough adjourning Congress as it was, without this threat from a new quarter. Senator Byrnes is the eye of Mr. Roosevelt in Congress. He is closer to the President than any other legislator.

The Steagall threat brought action from the White House. It was arranged that the conferees should go back to work. They did.

The lobbyist of one New York bank dashed back to Washington by airplane. When he arrived the bill had been agreed on by the conferees.

That Glass Bill has had a more checkered career than any other modern piece of legislation. It has had more lives than two cats. Against it were arrayed the best lobbyists New York banks could employ. One of the largest banks was particularly active. Its system will be hurt materially by the legislation.

How the administration stood by the bill was a mystery down to the time the conferees agreed. Mr. Roosevelt has steadfastly refused to say anything definite about it, even in confidence to his Congressional associates. His Treasury Secretary Woodin has been openly against it.

Glass has told friends privately that the President "never even lifted his little finger" for the legislation.

Senator Glass is not a profane man but he has two ultimate cuss words.

He had not used them in years until this session of Congress. The occasions on which he gave vent to extreme disapproval were: (a) when he passed Huey Long in the corridor one day, and (b) when someone asked him what he thought of the bill as permanently taking us off gold.

They had no influence either on Huey or the bill.

SEMITIC

The administration was the real sponsor behind that Senate attack on Hitler for his Jewish persecutions.

The speech was prepared for Democratic Leader Robinson by Mr. Roosevelt's associates. The strong views expressed are really those of the President. He could not say those things himself so he got his leader to do it.

German diplomatic sources well understood it was a diplomatic trick they cannot answer. If Mr. Roosevelt had spoken officially they would have romped all over central Europe waving swords. As it is diplomacy requires that they assume Mr. Roosevelt had nothing to do with it.

INVESTIGATION

The Morgans apparently pulled the strings which caused the Senate investigators to cancel vacation plans.

They have been insisting privately all along that no discrimination be shown. Their friends thought they had a promise that the committee would go ahead with Kuhn, Loeb and the other private bankers before fall. They were astonished to hear the committee wanted to go off and play golf.

Their private protest was certainly legitimate.

POMP

Drawing room manners have been brought to the tobacco chawers of the Labor Department by Lady Perkins.

That was a free and easy place. Men sat around with their feet on the desk, seeing who could hit the spittoon with the least effort. Those days are gone. If you want to see anyone now you cannot go in and slap him on the back. You send in your card.

Miss Perkins has established herself in the fourth office of a four office suite. Friends and foe alike are stopped one step inside the first office. There a wooden railing has been erected. A negro attendant takes your card.

The new system has its defects. All Washington is smirking about what happened to Senator Copeland when he tried to get information.

Cabinet officers treat Senators with great deference. The Senators have the right to criticize them on the floor and do so freely. Copeland wanted to get Miss Perkins in a hurry and called her himself. He was astonished to find she did not talk on the telephone. He asked her secretary for an appointment. He was informed that if you want to see Miss Perkins you must make your appointment a day in advance. He could see her some time tomorrow but not today. He explained he was SENATOR Copeland. That made no difference.

A less mild mannered man than Senator Copeland might have gone further. He dropped the matter.

NOTES

Jacob Gould Schurman recommended to Mr. Roosevelt the new ambassador to Germany, Prof. William Edward Dodd. . . . He will be a liberal on the religious question. . . . Harvard men are continuing to get the edge in diplomatic appointments of the new administration. . . . They always have. . . . Most of the career men in the diplomatic service are Cambridge graduates. . . . They help each other along. . . . The two latest Harvard appointees are MacVeagh, Greer, and Cudahy, Poland. . . . It was not very widely published but Senator Vandenberg brought out in the Senate that Presidential Secretary Louis Howe got $1000 apiece for his first two radio talks. . . . His ten weeks revocable contract gives him $900 for each fifteen-minute discourse. . . . Nobody protested when Congressman Beck recommended that the Constitution be printed with a black border around it and the inscription "In Memoriam."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

Industry control will NOT mean universal application of the closed shop principle.

A New Yorker helped a group of southern coal operators to find that out. They went to Washington with blood in their eyes. They thought they were going to have to raise wages to northern levels and were prepared to tell the world it would ruin them.

But the fight was called off before it started. Their leaders were quietly assured that the differential between northern and southern wage scales would be preserved and that they did not have to accept compulsory unionization.

What they will have to do is raise wages. That point was impressed on them. But their northern competitors will have to do the same thing in the same proportion and so the southerners will be under no handicap.

CONTROL

New York business men who have been worrying along similar lines have received similar assurances. They get a clear impression that only results will count and that methods do not matter. If they do their part to help jack up purchasing power they have no cause to lose sleep about federal interference.

They also get the picture that the various administrators and coordinators will not be allowed to ride hobbles of their own. Final power and final responsibility will not be transferred or abdicated.

PUBLIC WORKS

The engineer corps of the U. S. Army will play a larger part in administering the public works program than you have heard. The R. F. C. and its engineers will have little or nothing to do with it. The idea is to put the program on a plane with Caesar's wife—above the suspicion of political intrigue and commission-paying.

A Colonel of Engineers is in New York now on a private mission connected with public works planning. Officially the Army authorities don't even know he's here. Actually he has already tuned up the machinery for a flying start as soon as he gets the word. He may turn out to be chief administrator under General Johnson.

RIFT

There is a rift within the brain trust late. New York learns that Prof. Barile's appointment as special assistant to the R. F. C. in charge of railroad matters was really a ploy way of bedding him upstairs.

Before the appointment he was a sort of minister without portfolio and it seems that he tried too hard to have a finger in every pie. If he had trod only on the toes of politicians it might have been all right, but getting in the way of fellow members of the professoriat was something else again. His star has paled in consequence.

RAILS

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Joseph Eastman will definitely be railroad coordinator. He is having his troubles trying to figure out economics which won't mean payroll reductions. A certain step in that direction will be the grouping of terminal facilities in various cities to eliminate costly duplications. Cutting of fuel costs will be another.

The railroads are still hoping to prove that retention of the current wage reductions is necessary to get them back on their feet. So far they have drawn nothing but deaf ears from the authorities.

New York Central is not yet out of the woods in spite of optimistic traffic forecasts. The road still has a hundred million dollars in bank loans, sixty million dollars in debentures maturing next year and deferred maintenance estimated at a hundred million dollars to think about. It seems enough.

BUYING

One thing the railroad coordinator will do will be to insist that the roads spend more money for new engines, rails and other equipment. R. F. C. loans will be arranged for them when necessary. This is rated an essential part of the railroad program.

One of the objects is to keep the steel industry moving along. Improvement in employment has been marked among steel workers and authorities want to guard against losing any of the ground that has been gained.

The War Department has been doing its quiet bit to push industry along. Unusually large orders have been placed with chemical, copper, brass and steel companies.

IMPROVEMENT

A principal industrial corporation made a careful estimate of its probable sales and earnings for May at the beginning of the month. When the month was over it found that dollar values exceeded the estimate by 30 per cent and earnings by 100 per cent. (Copyright, 1933, McClure Newspaper Syn.)

HOOKS and SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

DID YOU KNOW THAT— While the boys of the National and American league circuits are lanning the air considerably and bemoaning miserable sweating marks, the fellows in the American association and the Pacific Coast league are going great guns. . . . Oscar Eckhardt, the Missions "frack" hitter who used to play with the Tigers and the Braves, is sporting a .470 mark. . . . Frank Signatos, the Indianapolis club's clouter, has been leading the league with .430. . . . Frank's big day came in a fracas with the Brewers recently when he got a single, double, triple and homer in five times at bat. . . . Jimmy London, the big Memphis sports writer, that he has dragged down more than 250,000 in the 12 years he has spent on the mat. . . . Leo Diegel carts around 50 clubs in his bag. . . . that it, the caddy does.

JEWISH ATHLETES The uproar in Germany concerning Jewish athletes seems to have abated with that country's promise to honor and protect the Semite wing of the next Olympics (and by the way, 1936 is a long way ahead). . . . But what great Jewish athletes are there? It is true that other sports besides track and field draw many Jewish entries, but in this country few go in for that sort of thing. "FASTEST HUMAN" Offend I can think of only one great track man in the last five years who was of Jewish antecedent. I am thinking of George Simpson, the Ohio State sprinter, who for a while wore the title, "The Fastest Human."

JIMMY DYKES RAPS COLLEGE ATHLETES

CHICAGO, June 17. — (INS) — The college of the land may go on turning out domestic scientists, captains of finance and experts of the "rasslin'" science, but they won't produce much in the way of baseball talent. The orchestra at Jimmy Dykes' favorite hotel was playing a popular tune and the White Sox third baseman was declaring himself on the future of the great national pastime. "Baseball won't get much out of those collegians dancing in there," said Jimmy, who is a ball player of what is laughingly known as the old school. "They're too lazy. They're a lot of big smoothies. They'll snort and puff around on the tennis courts and football fields, but that's to do or die for dear old Sluagh and, of course, to get the girls."

MONROVIA NETTERS PLAY HERE SUNDAY

Monrovia's premier tennis players invade the Frances Willard court tomorrow for a tournament beginning at 8:30 a. m. There will be men's singles and doubles, women's singles and mixed doubles. Toby White, Gil Ward, Johnny Cross, "Slim" Davis, Arno Finster, Kenneth Ranney, Jim Smalley, Don Park, Clarence Rawlings and Jack Viggers will be the Santa Ana men players. Mildred Ward and Marjorie Lauderbach the women.

'SPROUTS' ELDER IN BOWL RACE Stars Scare Torrance But Lose, 7-6

NEVA'S SINGLE SOUTHS UNDER BALLARD IN 9TH

Santa Ana's poor old Stars always come close—but that only counts in horse races! They scared the daylight out of Torrance's league-leading Terrers at Torrance last night, but when it came right down to the show-down Torrance had what it takes, and won in the last of the ninth inning, 7-6.

A glorified single by Pitcher Louie Neva, Torrance's pride and joy, broke up the heartbreaker. Santa Ana had scored twice in its half of the ninth, tying the count at 6-6, and Joe Cornelius was rushed to the mound as cold as an Alaskan mackerel because young Wilson Seacord had been lifted for a pinch-hitter at the outset of the Stars' rally.

Neva was the first batsman to face Cornelius. He took a called ball, then picked on an alley pitch as "fat" as a balloon, driving it on a line to center field, Rod Ballard, the "perfect outfielder" who had been making sensational catches all over the field and a few innings before had robbed this same Neva of a home run, came dancing in to field the ball. But the sphere squirted right through his legs and rolled to the deep recesses of the park while young Neva spat around the paths for a synthetic "home run." This play was officially scored as a single for Neva, a three-base error for Ballard.

Cornelius enters box "Cold" Ballard's error was no more of a blunder, however, than Cornelius' appearance in the box without "warming up." Joe Koral batted for Seacord at the very beginning of the inning but there was no activity in the Santa Ana bullpen until the Stars had made two runs and two were out. Cornelius could not have thrown more than five pitches before he was forced to go into the game.

Torrance had a 3-0 lead until the sixth, Watson's double and Alessio's single, after two were out, produced the game's first run in the second inning. Fabrigar's single, Wolfe's sacrifice, Storti's single and Paul Neva's Texas leaguer back of second base which went for a cheap triple accounted for more Torrance runs in the first.

Between the hits by Storti and P. Neva, Santa Ana's Ballard turned in the year's greatest defensive effort when he went into deep right-center and hauled down Louie Neva's terrific drive with his bare hand, his back to the playing field.

Storti's Get To Neva Meanwhile young Neva had been mowing down the Stars monotonously, fanning eight in the first five innings. But he almost had his ball game blown right out from under him when the Stars suddenly cut loose in the sixth.

Merrill started it with a double to left. Ed Daly went out an infield single, sending Merrill to third. Ballard was thrown out at first, Daley going to second, Merrill holding third. Tommy Young singled sharply to center scoring Merrill. Young went to second on the throw-in. Preble also singled, scoring Daley, and the alert Young dashed home to when Wolfe threw wildly to the plate. The error put Preble on second. He moved up on a passed ball, scored on Seacord's single to right. That put Santa Ana out in front, 4-3.

Torrance soon regained command of the situation, getting to Seacord for three runs and a 6-4 lead in the seventh. Wolfe beat out a punt and Storti singled to left. Louie Neva forced Storti at second. Paul Neva's booming single off Seacord's fingers scored Wolfe and put L. Neva on third. Leonard popped out to Preble in short right, L. Neva scoring after the catch. Torrance's hit to right tallied P. Neva.

Related Rally Ties Score Santa Ana's rally in the ninth, good for two runs, started after Koral had perished on strikes. Hill drew his third walk of the evening, raced to third on Denney's single to center. Merrill's long fly to left-center, caught by Forley, scored Hill and put Denney on second. Daley's whistling single to left tallied Denney, and (Continued on Page 14)

Leslie Makes Carey Look Good as Harum

NEW YORK, June 17. — (INS)—Max Carey, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, today enjoyed a hearty horse laugh at the expense of experts and fans who had belittled his acumen as a David Harum in the baseball marts.

On Thursday Carey gave thousands of Brooklyn fans heart failure by trading "Lefty" O'Doul, leading National league hitter in 1932, and Watson Clark, premier southpaw in the senior circuit last season, to the New York Giants for Sam Leslie, substitute first baseman. Critics who discussed the trade decided unanimously that Max was entitled to a one-way ticket to Matteawan.

Carey's judgment was vindicated yesterday when Leslie, making his first appearance in a Brooklyn uniform, beat the Giants almost single-handed. He drove in one run with a long fly and later hit a home run to drive the clinching nail in the coffin of his former mates as the Dodgers beat the league-leaders, 3 to 1.

FAVOR TROJANS OVER FIELD IN CHICAGO MEET

Major events of the National Collegiate Athletic association's track and field championships at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, will be described by Ted Husing over KJH today from 5:30 to 6:30 p. m., coast time.

CHICAGO, June 17.—(UP)—Two National track and field championships were at stake today in the World's Fair athletic carnival at Soldier field.

After a day of trials, in which almost 1000 athletes from nearly every state in the union participated, the stage was set for the high school finals this afternoon and the college finals tonight.

The preliminaries, run off yesterday on a loose cinderpath between intermittent showers, stamped Southern California as the favorite for the collegiate championship and East Tech, Cleveland, as the most formidable contender for the high school crown.

Southern California, victorious in the L. C. A. A. A. championships at Cambridge three weeks ago, led all other schools in qualifiers with ten in the 100-yard dash which were held. Louisiana State and Michigan placed seven each, and Indiana had six. Stanford qualified four.

The Trojans placed a man in every event except the discus, hammer throw and broad jump, and qualified two men in the 100-yard dash and quarter-mile. Their qualifiers were: Ablowich and Tompkins, quarter-mile; Parsons, 100 and 220-yard dashes; Weber, half-mile; Harper, shotput; Williams, javelin; Ball, 100-yard dash; Paul, low hurdles, and Welch, high hurdles.

Most of Stanford's points will be gathered by Henri Laborde in the discus and shot, Gus Meier in the hurdles, and Miller and Deacon in the vault. They had no other entries.

OLIVERS WIN AT ANAHEIM: POETS BEAT AVIATORS

Tuesday's Games Santa Ana at Anaheim; Torrance at Whittier; Olive at Huntington Beach; Fullerton at Westminster.

Huntington Beach today had a firmer grip on second place in the National Night league as a result of its 7-5 victory over Anaheim last night while Whittier was eking out a 4-3 victory on home runs over Westminster.

Meanwhile, Olive moved a notch nearer the first division by stopping Fullerton in 11 innings, 5-4. Pitching his first game since spraining an ankle in the Santa Ana contest three weeks ago, Anaheim's Bob Rose was ineffective against the free-swinging Huntington Beach club which bunched hits and took advantage of numerous bobbles to score seven times in the first three innings.

Five of these were produced in the first on singles by Osborn, Schuchardt, Rodgers and Conrad, and errors by Zabbia, McNabb, Bell and Kohler. Maness crashed a homer in the third, Lower, Rodgers and Conrad following with hits that added another run to the Oilers' total.

Relieved Rose after that and allowed only two hits the rest of the route. Anaheim got three in the second on doubles by Lemon and Rose and singles by Bell and Haseot, and two more in the third when Higgins singled and Charley Zabbia blasted one of the largest home runs in Anaheim history, a line drive over Schuchardt. After that Sabella settled down, hurled shutout ball.

Whittier's greatly improved pitching, hustling as never before, knocked off Westminster 4-3 on the strength of three home runs, two of them in succession in the tenth inning.

Westminster scored in the first and second. Whittier got a run in the sixth and tied the score on Norton's homer in the ninth.

Anier Hill and Pat White contributed clutch smashes in the first of the tenth, and Westminster was able to manufacture but one run in its half.

Fullerton, which carried Torrance 19 innings and Santa Ana 10 in its two previous starts, lost another extra inning game to Olive last night, 5-4, in 11 frames.

Terry Griffith's home run over Miller in midfield was the deciding stroke, after Fullerton tied the score in the last of the ninth on Bushman's single, a passed ball and Miller's single.

Bill Sweet hit a homer for Olive and Jim Sultenfuss one for Fullerton.

Santa Ana's tenth annual championship tennis tournament will get under way Monday afternoon without the three-time city titleholder, Randolph Bell, on hand to defend his laurels.

Winner of the round-robin competition in '30, '31 and '32, Bell is now residing in Fullerton and has decided to pass up the event this summer.

CHAMPION GOES TO POST WITH CRACK RIDERS

With the world's champion, "Sprouts" Elder, making his first appearance of the season, the summer's biggest crowd of speed worshippers is expected to crowd Santa Ana's Municipal Bowl tonight for a 20-event card of motorcycle races. Last year Elder drew 4500 to the Bowl, this still standing as the civic stadium's attendance record.

Elder will head an invasion of the Pacific Coast's finest riders, including Wilbur "Frenchy" Lameroux, Bo Lisman, Cordy and Jack Milne, Ray Grant, Ed Hinkle, Burton Albrecht and "Putt" Mossman, the latter a trick rider of national reputation. The entry list exceeds 45 and Promoter Floyd Cymer asserts the show is the most elaborate ever offered at any short-track in Southern California.

Elder is entered in several events. He not only will race his arch rival, Roy Grant, in a two-lap match, but will ride in the "open" handicaps against all the leading broadsiders of the meet. This will bring him into conflict with Lameroux, Lisman, the Milnes and others. Usually, the high-powered Elder confines his speed to exhibition and match events.

To followers of motorcycle racing, Elder long has been an outstanding figure. In 1926 he was a hill-climber, living at Fresno. One of his numerous conquests was the famed Capistrano Climb at San Juan Capistrano.

He secured a contract to go to Australia to ride in what was then a new sport, short-track racing. Almost overnight he became a star and was taken to England by the promoters. It was in England that he scored his first sensational victories over the best riders in that country, became captain of the All-British team in '29 and '30. He rode on the finest tracks in England where crowds of 40,000 often gathered to witness the sport.

Elder later invaded Germany where he rode on the famous Berlin Speedway, and Paris where he defeated the fastest French ace. Later he went to Argentina, back to Australia and New Zealand.

Elder has accumulated a small fortune riding racing motorcycles in the past seven years. His ability to negotiate the curves of dirt track is almost uncanny. While he is beaten once in awhile it is not often that he loses at the rear tire of an opponent.

Elder carries four English racing "jobs" with him. These machines, the most expensive available, are built especially for use on short tracks. Elder has two that he uses in the heats and two that he keeps for match races and time-trials.

Tonights program: Parade of riders, 8:15 p. m. First Handicap heat. Entries: Lameroux, scratch; J. Milne, 20 yards; Morrison and Hills, 30 yards; B. Johnson and Puck, 40 yards. Second Handicap heat. Third Handicap heat. Entries: Lisman, 10 yards; Campbell and Porter, 20 yards; Mossman, 30 yards; Lewis and Schofield, 40 yards.

Fourth Handicap heat. Entries: C. Milne, 10 yards; McKinnay, 20 yards; Kelly and Chambers, 30 yards; Murch and G. Johnson, 40 yards.

Lead record attempt by "Sprouts" Elder. First and second semi-final heats between first, second and third place men.

Event for Class C riders. Entries: Padretti, Popovsky, Swain, Flanders, Edwards, Fessler, Barclay and Coleman.

Two-lap match race: "Sprouts" Elder vs. Ray Grant. First scratch heat. Entries: Grant, Lisman, Porter and Kelly.

Second scratch heat. Entries: Elder, J. Milne, Hinkle and Mossman. Third scratch heat. Entries: C. Milne, Campbell, Chambers and Cox. Fourth scratch heat. Lameroux, McKinnay, Hills, Albrecht.

Memorial Bowl Planned At Huntington Beach

CITIZENS WILL CONTRIBUTE TO NEW PROJECT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 17.—Honoring the memory of W. T. Newland, pioneer resident who passed away in this city recently, plans have been formed for the erection of a Newland Memorial bowl at the beach, to serve as an open air auditorium. The committee in charge of the plans was named by the chamber of commerce and consists of Dr. L. H. Whitaker, chairman; Warren J. Bristol, Lee S. Chamness, Arthur W. Frost and W. H. Gallienne.

It is planned to have the bowl glassed off from the Pacific winds and to complete it within the year, arranging for a seating capacity of several thousand and making it one of the most beautiful outdoor theaters and auditoriums on the coast. Funds are to be by popular subscription. Each citizen will be asked to contribute $1 and friends may subscribe more if they desire.

The city is now starting the preliminary excavation work, which will be carried on with R. F. C. funds, affording work for the unemployed. The partially completed bowl may be utilized this summer on such occasions as are necessary or desirable. Blue prints have been completed and the preliminary work will be under city supervision, with Henry Wirth, street superintendent, and Harry Overmeyer, city engineer, in charge.

BOOK REVIEWS

By MARY BURKE KING

Stage Mother, by Bradford Ropes, published by Alfred H. King.

"Stage Mother" is the story of one of the mothers, who push their daughters on the stage and the screen, and work diligently and not always scrupulously, to further their daughters' careers and their own ambitions.

In the beginning, we see Kitty Lorraine and her husband Fred. They have an act together in vaudeville. His part was a dancing stunt on a bicycle. She was a dancer. Their love for each other is sweet. He meets with an accident and is killed. The next day their daughter Shirley is born. In the years that follow we see Kitty metamorphosed into a "stage mother." Every bit of knowledge she gained as a troupier is utilized. She resorts to blackmail twice in furthering Shirley's career. She becomes hard and hardens Shirley. Kitty is completely blinded by her ambition for her daughter. Shirley has no childhood. Shirley is shocked at the price of her rise, the ones who have been ruthless, she shoved aside from their line of progress. But when Shirley's mother in her ruthless way comes between her and a man whom she loved and despoiled her of any future with him Shirley herself becomes hard. Later there came a time when the mother stood between Shirley and her ambition and she had to be sacrificed. Shirley presents the situation so logically to her mother that one experiences no pang of sympathy. On the contrary there is the utmost satisfaction that Kitty must suffer, knowing as she does how keenly she deserves her end. She pays a price that she has brought upon herself. Shirley is no monster that Kitty had created. At the end we see Shirley as justice. "You haven't advanced a step since the day you took me by the hand and led me to Fritz Sterling's dancing class. You've spent all these years in lying and cheating and offering me to the highest bidder and you forgot that the higher you placed me the farther I moved from you. I should appreciate your efforts. I should say, 'Well done, mother,' but I can't thank you—I can only remember Warren Foster and Mark Thorne and the kids in the dancing class. You've had your turn—now let me try my luck!"

The Green Scamander, by Maude Meagher, published by Houghton, Mifflin Co.

The Amazons were a legendary nation of female warriors, reputed to have lived near the shore of the Euxine sea where they had an independent kingdom. They were ruled by a queen, later two queens. They took the side of Priam against the Greeks fighting under their Queen Penthesilea who was slain by Achilles, after a contest lasting hours.

The story, "The Green Scamander," describes the Amazons, their customs, their physiques, the manner of replenishing their race, and concentrates the attention on a group of personalities, their queen Penthesilea, and her "little sister queen" Camilla, complimentary to her in personality. There was a beautiful love between the two queens and when Camilla is killed by the Greeks, Penthesilea goes forth to battle against them, seeking death and revenge.

There are many points of delicious irony. The irony reaches its climax when Helen and Penthesilea, the one woman the "thesis of the other, come to each recognizing in the other the best product of the other.

"I think you are the perfect product of a ridiculous, but of view I've ever seen," says Penthesilea at one place.

Vegetables in the California Garden, by Rose H. Gast, published by the Stanford University Press.

This is the time of year when knowledge about any type of gardening is appreciated and here it is in abundance. Furthermore, the author tries to win the reader over to his type of gardening—vegetables—so reading the book may prove valuable to you. "To my way of thinking," says the author, "the raising of vegetables, berries, fruits and other useful plants is much more worth while than hobbling with flowers and ornamentals."

"I realize that to many peoples, vegetable growing is a prosaic activity, practiced only by dull, unappreciative souls, yet I assure you that to the initiate, white turnips can be just as nourishing to the soul as white hyacinths—in fact, they satisfy both the spiritual and the material inner man."

"The wolf walks boldly on the flower-bordered path to the door, but . . . he shies away from a vegetable garden."

The various chapters are: preparing the mind for the vegetable garden, quotations from which appear above; preparing the soil for the garden, with map of California showing planting districts, and vegetable planting chart for California; planting the seed; care after planting; insect and disease control; and a final chapter on the small farm home. The book is generously illustrated with diagrams, etc., including pictures of the insects.

Altogether it is an inspiring as well as a helpful and informing book.

The New Background of Science, by Sir James Jeans, published by Sir James Jeans.

The several hundred people who attended the recent series of lectures presented in Santa Ana by the faculty of the California Institute of Technology are all primed for this book of Sir James Jeans in which he describes how scientists came to search for and find a "new background" such as should effect a reconciliation between the nature of the laboratory and the nature of everyday experience; the scientific advances made by Einstein, Bohr, Heisenberg and others; how the theory of relativity has displaced Newton's theory of gravitation; how science has extended the race and amplified the power of our senses, and the amplifications of the present position in physical science.

Sir James Jeans is clear in his presentation. His book is designed for those who have no special knowledge of science.

Come Into The Forest With William A. Griffith

Devoutly worshipping the oak. Wherein the barred owl stares. The little feathered forest folk. Are praying sleepy prayers. Praying the summer to be long. And drowsy to the end. And daily full of sun and song. That broken hopes may mend. Praying the golden age to stay. Until the whip-poor-will. Appoints a windy moving day. And hurries from the hill.

AUTUMN SONG

Once more the crimson rumor. Fills the forest and the town. And the green fires of summer. Are burning, burning down. Oh, the green fires of summer. Are burning down once more. And my heart is in the ashes. On the forest floor.

"City Paternal" by James T. White and Co.

Call Artists At Claremont

Announcing one of the finest courses ever presented in this region, Claremont college has arranged for six outstanding events for the coming season which will bring a group of the most notable concert artists of the world.

The program, as just completed, begins with a great opening concert to be given by Lucrécia Bori, noted soprano and leading prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera company.

Jose Iturbi, great Spanish pianist and artist of international reputation, is to be presented in recital.

Nelson Eddy, young American baritone, having created such a sensation last season that he is being booked for re-engagements

UNUSUAL LOVE STORY COMING TO WALKER'S

Heralded as one of the outstanding pictures of the season, "Face to the Sky" comes to Santa Ana Sunday at Walker's State theater. Its treatment, photography and the work of its cast, are all said to strike a new note in screen artistry.

Spencer Tracy, Marian Nixon and Stuart Erwin have the leading roles in this tale of a traveling young signboard artist whose dreams of marrying a heiress fade when he falls in love with a little country girl.

Whimsically handled details of farm life, a free-for-all fight between the painter and his helper against the farmer and his son, a kidnapping unawares, the "rescue" of the girl by a vengeful bridegroom, her escape and desperate search through New York for her lover, and a unique reunion all punctuate the progress of the story.

It is in the unconventional direction and treatment, however, that the picture claims distinction. The director, Harry Lachman, recently created a sensation abroad with his European-made films, and in this, his first American offering, he is said to depart radically from accepted methods of telling a story.

Myles Connolly wrote the original story, with Humphrey Pearson doing the screen play and William Collier, the dialogue direction. Lee Garmes' photography and the work of a notable supporting cast headed by Sarah Padden and Sam Hardy are important features of the film.

New Owner For Garage In Brea

He has leased the fixtures and equipment of Bergman and Sons, and will conduct a service station, a grease and washing rack and will sell tires. John Morefield will continue to conduct the repair shop in the rear of the station.

P. T. A. Members Arrange Meeting

Ferres as recording secretary, Mrs. Ray Wolfe as financial secretary and Mrs. Ralph Peterson as parliamentarian. Mrs. George Hansen succeeds Mrs. Guy McIntyre as membership chairman and Mrs. Ira Miller will follow Mrs. William Watkins as treasurer.

In every city on the Pacific coast where he appeared last year, is being presented here for the first time.

The fourth event of the series will be the concert of the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra. The appearance of Harald Kreutzberg, and Ruth Page in joint recital is such a unique opportunity that these artists are being presented as the fifth event in the series.

The series will come to a conclusion in the appearance of Tito Schipa, noted Italian tenor, who needs no introduction to California audiences.

Tune in station KGER next Sunday, 12 noon Pacific Standard time, to hear Judge Rutherford's stirring lecture, "THE WAY OF ESCAPE," to be rebroadcast because of its importance. Also KTM 8:30 a.m. and KNX 9:15 p.m.—Adv.

ENDS TODAY

Elissa Landi, who is playing in "Warrior's Husbands," which ends its Santa Ana showing at the Fox West Coast theater tonight.

COMEDY FEATURE STARTS 2 DAY RUN AT FOX WEST COAST

"Warrior's Husbands," the new picture which shows Elissa Landi as a comedian, and a picture which Liberty Magazine has declared a "four star" production, ends its run tonight at Fox West Coast theater.

Ernest Truex, Marjorie Rambeau and a number of other well known players have important roles in a picture the story of which concerns a tribe of Amazons who keep their husbands in the kitchens while they go forth to war.

Many amusing situations arise, due to the fact that the weaker sex is represented by the men, but the climax of the story comes as a surprise in which the men assert their rights.

Ushers at the Fox West Coast theater for the past several days have been dressed like women, advertising the coming production and have proven as much entertainment in the lobby as the show has on the screen.

15 Wintersburg Pupils Graduate From H. B. School

WINTERSBURG, June 17.—With 15 young people of this district on the commencement class roll of the Huntington Beach Union High school, a large number of friends and relatives attended from here. A local girl, Miss Eva Preston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Preston, was salutatorian, while John Pryor, who like Miss Preston, completed his elementary school education in Oceanview school, was valedictorian. It was just the reverse in elementary graduation, Miss Preston being valedictorian and John Pryor salutatorian.

Both young people earned scholarships this high school term. John Pryor a two years course at Menlo college and Miss Preston a scholarship to Redlands university. Graduates from Oceanview school district included Nellie McIntosh, John McIntosh, Eva Preston, Thelma Stinson, Ruth Stinson, Agnes DeBusk, Jim Farquhar, Wesley Cowling, Harlan Moore, Ruth Kettler, David Gardner, Craig Snasdel, Mary Huff, Arthur Thornton, Robert Thornton and Glenn Lee.

CHATTER ON FILM STARTS WEDNESDAY

The big sister to "Frisco Jenny," the Ruth Chatterton picture which proved such a sensation here several months ago, will show at the Fox West Coast theater Wednesday and Thursday this next week. It was announced today by Lester J. Fountain, manager.

The new picture is "Lilly Turner." Miss Chatterton's newest screen hit, which has been showing in packed houses in Los Angeles for the past several weeks.

A picture much on the order of "Frisco Jenny," "Lilly Turner" finds Miss Chatterton again in the role of a woman of loose morals. In this picture she is traveling with a medicine show. Innocent and unafraid, she is betrayed by a second rate magician. A few months later, he leaves her with a child to bear, but the Barker of the show, played by Frank McHugh comes to her rescue and marries her. He is a drunkard, however, and she finds little happiness with him. She goes from one man to another, until Bob comes into her life. Bob, (George Brent) is a civil engineer. She falls in love with him, but realizes that she never can marry him because of her past.

From that time to the end of the picture the plot is even more alluring than in "Frisco Jenny." It is a picture that women will love and men will want to see. A Mack Sennett Comedy, "See You Tonight," and a Grantland Rice Sport picture also will be shown.

Ernest Truex, Marjorie Rambeau and a number of other well known players have important roles in a picture the story of which concerns a tribe of Amazons who keep their husbands in the kitchens while they go forth to war.

Many amusing situations arise, due to the fact that the weaker sex is represented by the men, but the climax of the story comes as a surprise in which the men assert their rights.

MARION DAVIES IN "PEG O' MY HEART" HERE

"Peg O' My Heart," the same story with a modern twist, the same romance with Marion Davies in the title role instead of Laurette Taylor—that's the dish the Fox West Coast theater will see before its patrons starting tomorrow, to play through Tuesday.

It is the latest screen triumph for Miss Davies, who enters into its highly entertaining plot as she has never done before, with a result that "Peg O' My Heart" is declared to be one of the most outstanding pictures of the year.

Only Marion Davies could breathe the charm and the wit of the little Irish lassie, who came to this world as a misfit and who was proud of it. As she met men and more men, the more she thought of her dog, until Jerry came along. Jerry, in the picture, is played by Onslow Stevens, a new screen personality, who according to his work in this production is slated to become a great star.

Others in the cast include J. Farrell McDonald, Juliette Compton, Irene Brown and Doris Lloyd, but the dog also should be mentioned for he plays a prominent part.

"Me and My Pal," a new Laurel and Hardy comedy, will also be shown on the same program together with a travelogue and a news reel.

FILM TELLS STORY OF HIDDEN BOMB ON OCEAN LINER

What happens on a trans-Atlantic liner when a radiogram from Scotland Yard advising that an infernal machine has been planted on the vessel is depicted in the Fox comedy romance, the "Infernal Machine," opening next Wednesday at Walker's State theater.

It leads to excitement, to accusations, to sacrifice, to bribery, to romance—and loads of laughs.

The leading roles are portrayed by Chester Morris, Genevieve Tobin and Victor Jory. The supporting cast includes Elizabeth Patterson, Arthur Mohl and Robert Littlefield.

Morris portrays the role of a dependent young man whose determination to commit suicide is supplanted by his love for a beautiful and presumably rich girl he meets as the result of a taxi cab collision, interpreted by Miss Tobin, under Marcel Varnel's direction.

Judge Rutherford's speech, "THE WAY OF ESCAPE," will be broadcast by station KTM next Sunday, at 8:30 a.m. local time. It is important that you hear it. Also over KGER at 12 noon and KNX 9:15 p.m.—Adv.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA SATURDAY, JUNE 17, 1933

Departure For East Preceded By Gift Shower

The departure tomorrow of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Thompson, 625 East Chapman avenue, Orange, for a summer in the east will have additional interest since it will be the honeymoon journey of the young couple, whose marriage was an event of May in Riverside. Mrs. Thompson was Miss Agnes Shambaugh, formerly of Santa Ana, and more recently of Orange where she taught in the intermediate school.

Among various charming parties planned before the departure, the most recent was a miscellaneous shower at which Miss Helen Craemer entertained in her home, 338 North Olive avenue, Orange, complimentary to Mrs. Thompson. Invited extensively to join in an evening call on Santa Ana friends, Mrs. Thompson arrived at the Craemer home to find a bevy of close friends awaiting with plans for a delightful surprise.

Tables were speedily called into service for bridge, in which prizes were awarded Miss Bertha Robinson and Mrs. Anna Elmer. Plans for the surprise of the party itself, were so successful that the hostess made no attempt to have the shower feature a surprise, so the honor guest had the pleasures of anticipation added to her evening of bridge, as one table was laden with packages which she was privileged to claim and open only at the conclusion of play.

Miss Craemer used quantities of pastel tinted flowers about her home, and emphasized their colors at the refreshment hour by appointing one table in pale yellow, one in pink and the third in green. Her linens were beautiful examples of handwork. Handkerchiefs, cross-stitch and other embroideries.

Santa Ana guests present included Mrs. Bruce Switzer, Mrs. Horace J. Howard, Mrs. W. Bradford Hellis and Miss Gertrude Hellis, while friends from Orange were Mrs. Anna Elmer, Mrs. LeRoy Valentine, Mrs. Gwendolyn Thompson, Mrs. Howard Thompson, the Misses Bertha Robinson, Margaret Dean and Dora Melvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson plan to motor east by way of Salt Lake City and Denver, stopping in Chicago for the exposition. They will visit their relatives in Pittsburgh, and then in Ohio and plan to continue by way of Niagara Falls to New York and Washington. Returning home they will take the northern route to Seattle and travel south by boat.

Emig-Stanley Wedding Is Announced

Friends in Santa Ana and vicinity of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Stanley, former Orange county residents, now living at Calistoga in the northern part of the state, have been deeply interested in announcement of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Melmo Stanley, and Lloyd C. Emig, which occurred on Sunday, June 11.

The marriage took place in the Stanley country home at Calistoga. The young people were to spend the remainder of June on their honeymoon, and after July 1 will receive their friends at 1631 Ward street, Berkeley. A. M. Stanley, father of the bride, formerly was secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau and of the Orange County fair.

Bringing to this city his charming young bride, Harry M. Apel, owner and proprietor of the Apel Book shop on North Spurgeon street is establishing a home at 112 South Ross street. Mrs. Apel was Miss Thelma Stein, daughter of Mrs. Anna Stein of Los Angeles. Mr. Apel is the son of Mrs. R. A. Apel, Pasadena.

The marriage of the young couple on June 4, was followed by a honeymoon at Catalina from which they returned to make their home in this city where Mr. Apel recently entered business. The wedding took place at the Mona Lisa on Wilshire boulevard, Los Angeles.

For the late afternoon rites conducted by Rabbi Bergman, the bride was very lovely in a long, graceful gown of white organza, her veil of lace and net with snug-fitting lace cap, sweeping in a five yard train. Her flowers were bride roses showered with lilies of the valley.

Miss Goldye Mae Millman, as honor maid, chose a smart frock in pale blue net with touches of pink enhanced by her cluster of pale pink Tulleman roses. Mr. Apel had the assistance of his brother, Frank Apel, as best man.

Immediate members of the family were bidden to the wedding and to an elaborate dinner served to nearly half a hundred guests. The hours from 7 to 11 were devoted to a reception for over 250 guests, and dancing concluded the evening.

When Mr. and Mrs. Apel left the following day for Catalina, the bride wore a modish suit of gray with gray squirrel trimming, and all dress accessories to harmonize. She is a graduate of Los Angeles High school and Woodbury Business Institute, and holds the California record in typing. She also tied for first place in the national accuracy contest. Mr. Apel had his high school work in his former home city, Marshall, Texas.

Grandmother Shower Is Unique Theme Of Party

A new application of an old idea in hospitality, was seen in a cleverly arranged party at which Mrs. William Castler was hostess Thursday afternoon in her home, 514 Spurgeon street. Given the intriguing title of a "grandmother shower," the party in every detail centered its interest in Mrs. George Young rather than in her daughter, Mrs. Eugene R. Hitt, and her expectations.

Mrs. Castler had invited the Jolly Dozen Bridge club of which she and Mrs. Young have long been members, to share with several other friends, an enjoyable afternoon. The home was like a garden with its many flowers sent by interested friends, and bridge was introduced as entertainment.

Mrs. James Columini took first prize, Mrs. Nannie Belle Lester, second, and Mrs. Mabel Kendall, consolation. When these were awarded, Mrs. Young had a distinct surprise, one which was equally unexpected to her daughter, Mrs. Hitt. For a beautiful baby carriage, laden with packages, was brought in. The carriage itself was the gift of Jolly Dozen members, while its packages were layette gifts from other guests present. It was Mrs. Young's privilege to open all the gifts for the little grandchild whose coming she anticipates so much.

In serving a tea menu as the finale to the afternoon, Mrs. Castler employed storks and symbols of infancy to brighten the individual tables.

Jolly Dozen members included the hostess and her honoree, Mrs. Castler and Mrs. Young, together with Mesdames S. E. Grotz, John Rudolph, Robert Aitken, Jules Markel, Frank Smith, Joseph Haupt, Herbert Shugart, George R. Venkamp, Catherine Schmiedeburg, Elizabeth Dryer, Catherine Wiekhorst, Miss Bertha Klatt and Miss Rose Klatt. Others present were Mesdames Eugene Hitt, Nannie Belle Lester, James Columini, Antone Borchard, Charles Borchard, Ed. Daley, Ray Helm, Carl Helm, Claude Norton, Arthur Lorette, Carl Shriver, Nathan Lufbery, U. J. Engelmann, Margaret Dietler, Frank Ely and her house guest, Mrs. Marchell, Miss Cleora Fine, Mesdames James Fitzpatrick, J. P. Murphy, E. B. Collier, L. M. Banks and Arthur Daley.

Frankie McDonald and Eloise Schrier were named members of a general installation committee. Refreshments were served by a committee whose chairman was Audrey McDonald.

Mrs. W. H. Goddard, speaker, gave a vivid picture of China as it is today in relation to Christianity, telling of its needs and desires as a nation.

Reports on articles in the World Call were given by Mesdames A. N. Glancy, C. L. Steen, T. D. Knights, J. T. Ogle and F. B. Taylor. "The Builder" (Cadmian) was sung by Frank Pierce accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. S. Briggs. The theme, "Change Communities in China" was developed in devotionals conducted by Mrs. Buchanan. ## ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Dinner
Cream of spinach soup
Broiled halibut, average helping
Any green vegetable, large serving

Salad: 1-2 canned peach
1-4 cantaloupe, sliced
Lettuce hearts
Mineral oil mayonnaise
Clear tea, no sugar
Calory total, 390.

Include in this total a teaspoonful of butter for dressing the vegetable, not mentioned in menu.

Cream of spinach soup on a reducing diet—horror! Oh no, not when the soup is made with skim-milk. Then you have a tissue-building minus the fat calories. To make the soup take a cup of finely chopped cooked spinach, add a cup of water and cook until it will wash into a puree. Heat the required amount of skim-milk in a double boiler, add the spinach puree, season, and let stand 15 minutes to ripen flavors.

Of course the family won't welcome a skim-milk soup with open arms so you do this when their soup is served: In each soup cup put a spoonful of heavy cream, whipped preferably. Pour the soup over the cream and dust the top with paprika.

Broiled fish is always preferable to fried fish: Use a shallow buttered pan for fish broiling, rather than the regular broiling grid, then you haven't objectionable fish odors to scour out of the broiling oven.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Orange Bread
The peel of 4 oranges cooked in syrup, using 1-4 cups sugar and 1-2 cup water.
2 1-2 cups flour

1-2 cup sugar
3 tps baking powder
1 tsp salt
1 cup milk
1 egg
1 Tbsp melted butter
1 tsp vanilla
Cook the orange peel for 24 hours, change water and cook until the peel is soft. Cut in strips and cook slowly until the peel absorbs the syrup fully. Cool, and cut in dice before adding to the dough.

Sift all dry ingredients together. Combine all wet ingredients. Mix the wet and dry ingredients, work in the candied peel, which must be quite soft. Pack into a good-sized bread tin, let stand 20 minutes in the warm kitchen, then bake 45 minutes in a medium oven. Slow down the heat during the last half of the baking.

An ordinary slice of orange bread has a calory value of 150, due to the excessive sugar content.

Little cushions properly belong on beds. When transferring to that point just below your wishbone they are anything but decorative, and what they can do to the hang of your new spring frock is just too bad!

Would you like to get rid of this little pillow of fat? Would you like to find your waist-line loose and slim once more? Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and a copy of my SAFE AND SANE REDUCING DIET will be mailed as soon as the printer delivers them to me. Au revoir until Monday.

ANN MEREDITH.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Jesus Rises From The Dead

Text: Mark 16:1-11
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 18.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist.

The story of the resurrection of Jesus quickens the imagination as it stimulates the faith of the disciples. We cannot gain the full effect of the story except as we grasp the situation confronting the disciples in the crucifixion of Jesus and in the apparent destruction of their hopes. Men and women had followed him, drawn by his teachings as well as by his life and character, confident in the fact that he had come to establish a kingdom of righteousness and truth that would overcome the kingdoms of the world and realize their highest spiritual hopes. They had witnessed the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem with the applause of the throng, the people crying, "Hosanna to the King coming in the name of the Lord!" and throwing their garments in the way in their ecstasy.

Surely it must have seemed that the Messianic Day had come and all the deepest hope of devout Israel was about to be accomplished.

Then suddenly, had come the reversal of all this hope, the apprehension of Jesus, his judgment before the council and before Pilate, his condemnation to death, and his crucifixion on Calvary. It was indeed a dark hour, and we can understand the despair of that disciple who said to his fellow disciples, "I go fishing." For him the alluring dream was over, and there was nothing but to go back to his fishing nets.

Here and there we have evidences of the gloom that settled down upon the disciples in that hour of darkness. It was not only their bereavement in the loss of a friend, but the overthrowing of their hopes and aspirations, and the dumbfounding of their faith.

Suddenly all was changed from gloom and despair. There came the note of joy and hope and the revival of faith in the assurance that Jesus really lived. Here in our lesson we have the story of the two women who had come to the tomb of Jesus bringing spices for the anointing of his body.

To them there appeared the divine visitant, assuring them that Jesus had risen and that his disciples would see him again in Galilee. Then there came the appearance of Jesus also to others, and the conversation with two disciples on the way to Emmaus.

We are dealing with a miraculous record. The resurrection of Jesus in the external facts is beyond proof or disproof, but we have the clear evidence of the experience that came to the disciples in the restoration of their faith with the clear assurance that Jesus was not dead but living.

It changed life for them, and it can change life for us. We may not see the vision of the Risen Christ in the same form as the disciples saw him, but to disciples in ages since this record was given there has come the assurance that Jesus is living because of the reality of his indwelling life and guidance.

RACHEL and LEAH

At length, as Jacob journeyed towards the East, he reached a great well, where were flocks of sheep waiting to be watered. He asked the herdsmen: "Do you, by chance, know my uncle Laban?" They answered: "Indeed we do, and this is his daughter Rachel, now coming with his sheep."

Then Jacob ran to meet Rachel, and kissed her, and wept with joy that he had at last reached the land whence his people had come. So he helped the maiden water her flock and drive them home.

Now Laban had two daughters. Leah, the elder, had weak eyes, but Rachel was beautiful, and Jacob loved her. After a month Jacob spoke what had long been in his heart: "Let me work for you for seven years, and then give me Rachel for my wife."

So Jacob labored for Laban, and the seven years seemed like so many days, for he loved Rachel greatly. And at length the marriage day arrived, but that night, after the feast, Laban sent Leah instead of Rachel, in to the bridegroom. On the morrow, when Jacob saw that he had been deceived, he was very angry indeed. But the crafty Laban said: "According to custom, you must marry the eldest daughter first. However, if you will labor seven years more, you may marry Rachel, also."

And Jacob remained with Laban for seven years more, and married Rachel, whom he really loved.

The Story of Rachel and Leah is from the Old Testament—Genesis—Chapter XXXII

THE TINYMIES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

Well, we were just as worried as could be. We told the Imp about it and he had a dandy plan. "He shortly found this lion hide and then two of us crawled inside. We practiced moving round a little while. Then off we ran. "When we came to the giant's house, we kept as quiet as a mouse. When we peeked in a window there was not a soul in sight. "Of course we promptly wondered where you all could be, when you weren't there. And then we started searching, and it all turned out all right.

Then Windy said, "Gee, it was fun when we made that old giant run. We chased him over yonder hill. Then we grew tired and stopped. "We'd better get away from here. The giant will come back, I fear. If he makes up his mind to do something, he can't be stopped. "Well, let's get going," Doty said. "If you ask me, I really dread the thought of ever seeing that big fellow any more. "Let's go back to the Imp right now! I'm sure we'll find our way, somehow. I hope it isn't very far. My little feet are sore. "Come on," they all heard Scouty call. "We'll be there in no time at all. Right through the trees we'll have to go. I think we'd better run. "Just wait till Coppy sees us! He will be as happy as can be. When we all get together we can have a lot of fun. "So through the woods they ran along, all hoping nothing would go wrong. Some birds swooped down and greeted them. "They're friendly," Doty cried. "They know that we are friendly too, and nothing harmful will we do. Gee, look! A little chipmunk's scampering right by my side." (Copyright, 1933, NEA Service, Inc.)

SENATE AMENDMENT THIRTY

The first proposition which will be found on the ballot for voting will be that relating to taxation. And the first statement under that proposition of taxation says: "Limits State Appropriations."

We were rather inclined, after personally conversing with Mr. Riley, the State Controller, to believe that there was real merit in this proposition, and something that would be helpful to the taxpayers and citizens of the state. So we gladly availed ourselves of the opportunity to hear him discuss this question at the high school.

We listened to his exposition with deep interest, and became thoroughly convinced, by the time he had finished, in the light of our own knowledge of the facts, that this taxation proposition should be repudiated by the people at the polls. We are convinced that there is no one thing that is being presented to the people at the polls, on which there is more misunderstanding, due to the failure to give the entire facts, amounting almost to misrepresentation, than on this question of Article No. 1.

It uses various kinds of "bait" to cover up and to lead the voter to vote for the question, when on examination the "bait" is found to be artificial and not real. For example, take the question of limiting expenditure. It does not actually limit the expenditure, but it permits a five per cent increase each biennium, and an unlimited increase each biennium, providing any such increase is passed by two-thirds of the legislature.

Our observation of the legislature is that it is not difficult to get two-thirds of the legislature for specific increases, if those increases are of the type that the legislature wants to see increased. As an actual fact, the limitation which purports to be placed there, can be removed at any time by the legislature itself. And there can be an increase of five per cent even without the two-thirds of the legislature, and this permissive increase is almost a guarantee that we will have such increase. The permission to the legislature to increase it by their vote almost insures also that there will be a greater increase.

It will be noted that these facts were not called to our attention by those who are favoring No. 1.

Then taking up the matter of the county increase, expenditures of any county, city and county, municipality or other political subdivision, it would appear, are limited in the same manner that the others are limited, and that is, they are not really limited at all. In the first place, both interest and redemption charges are outside the limitation. In the second place, at any election a majority of the people can increase it, and in the third place, the state Board of Equalization can increase it in such manner as is provided by law.

This really means that there would be no limit at all, for bond payments and interest on the bonds can be voted without any reference to the increase, and then the Board of Equalization can do it now. Here again is a deceiving part of the bill, to induce people to think that they are getting some limitations, when there is no limitation at all.

Again, there is no power that this amendment gives to the legislature which the legislature does not now and here possess. It purports to be an amendment to save an ad valorem tax, or to reduce the tax upon real estate. The amendment provides that not more than twenty-five per cent of the total appropriations from all funds of the state shall be raised by taxes on real and personal property.

As a matter of fact, there is not any such tax now upon real estate or personal property. There is no ad valorem tax, and this, under the guise of limitation, suggests a twenty-five per cent ad valorem tax. If this be granted, and they should vote in harmony with it, there would be a property tax by the state, as there has not been thus far. But it says that two years from now, the legislature shall have the power to limit the amount of taxes which may be imposed upon real and personal property for county or city and county purposes.

The legislature has the power now to pass an income tax, or a sales tax, to meet the deficit in our state. They could have done it without adding a dollar to the property tax. Why did they not do it?

On the face of it, according to the arguments, it would look as though the legislature were afraid to trust itself, and wanted to "pass the buck" to the people, and be restricted in some of its actions, whereas those who are arguing for it claim that it will result in a sales tax of two or three per cent. But let us re-emphasize that there is nothing now to prevent this sales tax from being passed. Why didn't the legislature do it?

This provision is taking some of the amounts that are now raised by the county for schools, and while it proposes to transfer them to the state, which the state, in turn, must raise through taxation, and it must come right back to the people of the counties for the funds. In substance it is simply a juggling of figures and amounts from one district to another, with the idea all the time that the further the unit, which raises the money by taxation, is removed from the people, the less complaint there will be by the taxpayer and the more they can "get away" with it. This, for practical purposes, is the same bill that the people voted against so overwhelmingly last fall.

Under the Governor's set-up, it would be necessary to raise $174,613,272 from new sources, to "fund" expenditures for the biennium beginning 1935. This increased amount, which must be met if this amendment should carry, is due to the fact that the gross earnings of utilities will not be available after that date, which are now available, and will continue to be, if the people vote down this amendment.

This increased amount must be raised through an ad valorem tax, a consumers' sales tax, or an income tax. After assessing $80,000,000 of it as an ad valorem tax, which would amount to 54 cents, it would be necessary, if the balance were to be raised from a sales tax, to have a three per cent tax upon everything that everybody bought.

If the legislature could be forced to rivet its attention to decreasing expenditure, and force such decrease by over-riding the Governor's veto, instead of looking for additional sources of revenue, we have abundant opportunity and means by which to adjust a tax without an additional burden upon real estate. For they can do anything now that they could do in the way of such tax, in case we voted for this amendment. But it would be found, if we vote for this, that after we have settled down, under the guise of reducing and limiting, which has all these loop holes to defeat it, we have actually O'K'd a general tax-spending program, under the belief that we were getting some relief.

The suggestion of a five per cent increase in county expenditures would undoubtedly serve as authority to increase rather than to curtail. If there were a provision in this bill that expenditure must be decreased five per cent, without any loopholes, unless it were shown that there were such an actual and substantial increase in population and expense, there would be more sense in it. But a proposition of increasing five per cent, with several loopholes to increase further, under the appearance of being a "limitation," is a misnomer. It should be designated "a tax bill continuing to permit the sky to be the limit."

In view of the fact that bonds and interest on bonds are entirely outside of the limitation, it would encourage the uneconomical method of doing everything through bonds, rather than the proposition of "pay as you go."

We believe that the more this measure is studied, the more convinced the thinking voters and taxpayers will be that it should not pass.

FATAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS
DECREASE

Statistics from the National Safety Council indicate that as a nation we are at last learning to drive automobiles. Last year there was a decrease in motor vehicle fatalities, for the first time since the advent of the automobile. It is a fact that there were fewer autos on the highway than in the previous year but the decrease in fatalities was twice as great as the decrease in automobile travel. The decrease in automobile fatalities was thirteen per cent. The excelling of this record is threatened by beer and the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. One doesn't need to be a seer to make such a prediction.

Brotherhood From Bronzes

Christian Science Monitor

If sermons can be seen in stones, brotherhood may be born from bronzes. This thought comes from the new Hall of Living Man at Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago, which shelters about 1000 bronze busts and figures of representative racial types of the world.

One of the most outstanding exhibits ever presented by any museum, this hall is agreed to have great artistic merit, by virtue of the excellent sculptures produced by Miss Marvina Hoffman, Rodin student, who traveled around the world in search of her models. It is agreed to have great value to the anthropologist as well, which after all is its main purpose.

But it has still another value, that of helping to bring better understanding and closer brotherhood among the peoples of the world, to read the comments of Dr. Berthold Laufer, curator of anthropology at the museum.

If the visitors to the hall will receive the impression that race prejudice is merely the outcome of ignorance and will leave it with their sympathy for mankind deepened and strengthened, and with their interest in the study of mankind stimulated and intensified, our efforts will not have been futile and will have fulfilled their purpose.

By carefully studying these bronzes in the light of authentic data on their racial background, it is possible for the student of mankind to learn much indeed about the varied expressions of human nature, to come into a better understanding of the factors which make different peoples behave in their different ways.

Friendship is born of understanding, and if this exhibition—to be a permanent thing in this great middle western museum—can help promote better understanding, it will have made a contribution to humanity outweighing even the artistic and academic value of the bronzes.

Hight College Spirits

New York Times

The flag burning incident at Amherst has been wound up with a fine for three students who participated in what turns out to have been a bit of far-fetched humor instead of sedition. The ceremony of burning the flag was part of a mock-Communist demonstration. The young actors seem to have been anxious, in the manner of Poon-Bah, to lend artistic verisimilitude to what might otherwise have been a bald and unconvincing performance.

Desecration of the national standard does not commend itself even as college humor. But that the thing is conceivable will be manifest to any one acquainted with humorous college publications in recent years. The undergraduates have more than kept up with the march of the times. There is a startling family resemblance between their funny pages and the posters outside of the Forty-second Street burlesque theaters.

A MERE POSSIBILITY

If only different tribes of flies
Against each other should arise

And wage an internecine scrap
Till all were driven off the map—

If only little savage germs
With other germs got on bad terms,

And, sounding forth their shrill alarms,
In multitudes should fly to arms

And never pause, while thus employed,
Till all of them had been destroyed.

Or, kicking up their filmy heels,
Begged mercy with soprano squeals—

If only all the insect clan,
Instead of raising hob with man,

Would gamely battle, day and night,
And punch and gouge and kick and bite

Until the morning light revealed
Not one live microbe on the field.

They might so move the hearts of men
That they would never start again

A deadly and expensive fight,
I only say, dear friends, they might.

If, in some hundred ages hence,
Men get a little common sense.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

The age of discretion is the one when you begin to realize that nobody calls you on the phone to give you anything. History tells of many great and dominant nations, no one of which got that way by neglecting its own affairs to worry about the faults of its neighbors.

But if you can't keep your own secret, why expect your friend to keep it?

GOOD TIMES: A SEASON WHEN PEOPLE ARE DOING THE FOOLISH THINGS THEY WILL REGRET IN BAD TIMES.

Maybe the money changers haven't been driven from the temple, but they've at least been driven into the open. There's one law for the rich and another for the poor, and about two million for the class in between.

There's one consolation. If the people ever decide for public ownership, they can just have Mr. Morgan sign a transfer.

AMERICANISM: Thinking up new laws to prevent dishonesty; judging men by their wealth and thus encouraging others to get money in any way they can.

That is, the American people won't stand for a dictator who dictates right out in public.

Anyway, it's nice to know, as you do your bit to build up the country, that you are a Morgan partner.

Maybe we're wrong, but some of this indignation about ill-gotten millions sounds a little wistful.

ONE SHUDDERS TO THINK OF THE LOOK THAT DRUGSTORE COWBOYS WILL GET FROM THE TOUGH NEW BOUNCER.

Then, too, there's the fierce bright light that beats upon a man.

European nations may not take Uncle Sam's shirt this time. They don't want a hair shirt.

An aggressor nation is one that strikes first. That is, it strikes you as too weak to defend something you want.

"The house-wrecker," says a trade paper, "must offer an attractive figure." This is also true of the home-wrecker.

Thoughts On Modern Life

ROOSEVELT AND WILSON

Harold Laski, incisive English scholar and publicist, has lately written that he hopes for little from Mr. Roosevelt because Mr. Roosevelt is a liberal who thinks the situation can be handled by regulation whereas Mr. Laski thinks the day of liberalism's regulatory program is past and that we are in a phase in which things generally must be socialized.

I do not agree with Mr. Laski that the choice is between the old liberalism's policy of regulation and the new fashionable policy of wholesale socialization. I agree that the old liberalism is dead.

And I think the weakness of Woodrow Wilson was that he never saw this fact.

Mr. Wilson never awakened to the fact that the kind of economic world for which the old nineteenth century liberalism of the small man and the small enterprise was admirably adapted was gone.

Mr. Wilson lived in the age of collective effort.

He saw clearly that a nation cannot go it alone in an interdependent world, but he never quite saw that the small man and the small enterprise cannot go it alone in an age of large-scale effort, but must be fitted organically into a nationally and internationally planned economic order.

I think Mr. Roosevelt sees what Mr. Wilson did not see.

As I said yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt is not willing to follow a hands-off policy, and he is not willing to rest content with a timid regulatory policy that sees nothing beyond shielding the little man and the little enterprise a bit from rude onslaughts of power.

Mr. Roosevelt's liberalism realizes that we are in the age of large-scale enterprise, and so he is willing to see the old anti-trust laws liberalized if and when he can see effected a large-scale planning, for entire industrial fields through a government-industry partnership.

Mr. Roosevelt wants to see the small man and the small enterprise fitted into a nationally-planned scheme that will take full advantage of the age of large-scale operation. And he wants to broaden the vision of the big man and the big enterprise.

IT ISN'T SO

In our desire to be up to the minute in education we have tried to give the children the freedom they ought to have to make their growth healthy, swift and strong, and in that effort we have strayed a bit too far on the left. We have departed widely from the idea that leadership by parents and teachers is necessary for the guidance of children.

That leadership is essential. If children could direct themselves, if they could elect their courses of study, if they could see their aims clearly and direct their powers efficiently there would be no need of schools, no need of any sort of supervised training. The children could be turned loose to do for themselves.

Some children have been turned loose in this way while their teachers and parents looked on approvingly. The results have not always been good. Children make waste movements. They wander about the field of learning with vague notions of doing something somehow. They end in confusion and discouragement.

Little children must be guided. The guidance ought to be illuminated by wisdom. The fear of dominating and fettering the mind of a child ought to teach us to be discriminating and generous in our dealings with him but it should not lead us into making the grave mistake of abandoning him to his ignorance in the name of freedom.

Training children calls for a very nice adjustment of mind to mind. Just so much pressure and no more must be put on the child to keep him advancing, trying, judging and starting again. Too much kills his ambition, too little hurls it to sleep. Just enough is the desired quantity. But how to know?

One never really knows. One feels his way, watches and adjusts again and again like the pilot at the wheel. The quality of the child is the deciding factor. One starts with him as he is and does all that can be done to keep him growing at his best. The standard of good must bear a close relation to the child in question. What is good for him may not be good for another. His high mark may be a low one for another. But it is as good for him as the other child's mark is good for himself. But he cannot be trusted to know his own good until he has gone through many minute in education we have tried to give the children the freedom they ought to have to make their growth healthy, swift and strong, and in that effort we have strayed a bit too far on the left. We have departed widely from the idea that leadership by parents and teachers is necessary for the guidance of children.

The aim of all education is to help a child attain his chief good. We cannot give it to him. It must be earned by the sweat of his own body and mind. We can lead, direct, advise and encourage but we cannot give him an atom of power that he has not grown by his own effort. In the beginning we hold his hand and steady his feet and as he grows in power and endurance we tactfully, discriminatingly withdraw. But we are in at the beginning and we remain in until the child puts away children things and assumes the full stature of maturity.

Life is never simple. There is no pure activity in it. No pure black, no pure white, no unrelated quality. It moves along like a river broad and deep and full of the salt of the earth. Undirected growth, pure freedom of childhood simply is not true. Nobody is free until released from this life. The children need us. (Copyright, 1933, The Bell Syn., Inc.)
